THE FUTURE IN YOUR FACE.

Take yourself into the 23rd Century where teams of techno-gladiators play KlashBall. Based on the "primitive" 1990 games of soccer, basketball and hockey. Two five-man teams will be pitted against each other in an arena full of fierce futuristic twists such as a ball launcher, warp tunnels, and magnetically charged bounce domes.

Suited in armor, you must use strength and speed to maneuver a three-kilo energy sphere into your opponent's goal. However, this is more than just a game of power, strategy plays an important part in conquering your opponent's team whose unique skills and weaknesses differ from yours. Whether you fight it out in a single Match or defeat an entire league to triumph in the "Power Bowl" Finals, be prepared for a game so real it's in your face !

GAME PLAY

The game is played by two teams in an arena. Each team consists of 4 player characters and a goalie character. The purpose of the game is to score by shooting the ball against the opponent's goal. The game is played within a limited time period. The team that has scored more goals after time has elapsed will be the winner.

KlashBall can be played by yourself (1 player) or by you and a friend (2 players). In a 1-Player game, you play the game against opponents automatically controlled by the computer. In a 2-Player game, you play the game against your friend.

There are Knockout and League in a 1-Player game. In the Knockout, you must win 2 out of 3 Rounds to win the Match. You must defeat 10 opponents in a row to win the championship. The opponents become increasingly difficult as the Matches progress.

In the League, you play a single Round with an opponent once a week for an entire season. Your team ranks among 11 teams based on the number of Matches you have won and lost. If your team ranks within the top 3 at the end of the season, you can go into "Power Bowl" finals, consisting of the Semi Final and the Grand Final.

There are Knockout and Single Round in a 2-Player game. In the 2-Player Knockout, the team that has won 2 out of 3 Rounds will be the winner.

THE ARENA
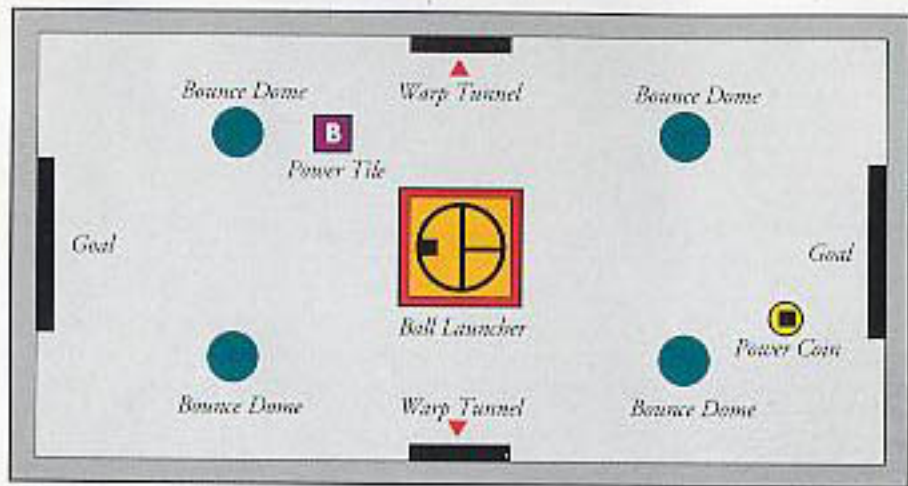

KlashBall takes place in a steel-walled, steel-floored arena, 160 feet long by 90 feet wide. The walls are 30 feet high. There is a goal mouth (4 feet high) centered at each end of the arena.

Warp Tunnels - At the midpoint of each side wall is a warp tunnel (5 feet high). A pass into the warp tunnel sends the ball shooting out the opposite side at the same speed and angle at which it entered. Use the warp tunnels to pass the ball to teammates on the other side of the arena.

Ball Launcher - The ball launcher, located in the center of the playing area, begins each play by rising out of the playing floor, rotating and firing the ball in a random direction. Similar to a face-off in hockey, players struggle for possession of the ball after it is released.

> Note:• When "KB" tile appears on the ball launcher, a player who possesses the ball can run across it and change the ball into an orange "KlashBall." When a "KlashBall" is thrown, it will curve just in front of the goal and can break a goal barrier, if present.
> • When "Skull & Crossbones" tile appears on the ball launcher, a player who runs across it will momentarily be out of play.

Bounce Domes - Located at various locations, bounce domes are magnetically charged barriers that rise above the floor. Bounce domes emit electrical energy that repels the ball, but permits players to run over them with no effect. Bounce domes appear in different formations for each match.

Timer - The timer is displayed at the bottom center of the game screen. The timer stops whenever the ball is not in play. The timer starts blinking when only 30 seconds remain; broken beep tones will sound during the last 10 seconds.
