It's Tailtime!

Even a lost island hideaway in the wet South Pacific isn't far enough away from the long arm of Rez. While GEX was whiling away the hours living on the fruits of his recent successes, the madman of the Media Dimension was working on his new hobby - secret agent-napping. Agent Xtra was now struggling for her freedom as a hostage in the lair of Rez. As a master of disguise, GEX had his work cut out for him. Another descent into bad TV parodies is at hand. To the GEXCaves! It's Tailtime!

Setting up

Make sure the power is off before inserting or removing a Game Pak from the Nintendo 64. Insert the Game Pak, make sure a controller is plugged in and turn on the Nintendo 64. Follow the on-screen instructions to start a game.

Controller Paks®–To save game settings and continue playon previously saved games, insert a Controller Pak into the Controller before you turn on the Nintendo 64 or at the specified times the game prompts you to insert a Controller Pak.

Rumble Paks–To feel the shimmy and shake of the Rumble Pak, insert a Rumble Pak into the Controller before you turn on your Nintendo 64 or at the specified times the game tells you to insert a Rumble Pak.

CONTROL STICK FUNCTION

The Nintendo 64 Controller contains a Control Stick which uses an analog system to read the angles and direction of its movement. This allows subtle control that is not possible using the conventional + Control Pad.

When turning the Control Deck power ON, do not move the Control Stick from its neutral position on the controller.

If the Control Stick is held at an angled position (as shown in the picture on the left) when the power is turned ON, this position will be set as neutral. This will cause games using the Control Stick to operate incorrectly.

To reset the neutral position once the game has started, let go of the Control Stick so it can return to its center position (as shown in the picture on the left) then press START while holding the L and R Buttons.

The Control Stick is a precision instrument, make sure not to spill liquids or place any foreign objects into it.

MAP

Once you enter the game, GEX finds himself in the secret underground GEXCave. The hub of activity is Mission Control, the computerized brains overseeing GEX's undercover assignments. Note – GEX must find Remotes (see pg. 13) to gain access to static-filled TVs.

BONUS TVs

It'll cost you to enter these TVs. First, GEX must collect Bonus Coins (pg. 18). The number needed to enter the Bonus Level is shown on the lower left side of each TV. Once in the Bonus game, you'll have a short time to complete a mini-mission. When you succeed, a Secret Code will appear on the lower right side of the TV. Write the code on your palm to use later when the GEXVault has been opened.
